

BITTER DENIAL MADE BY KLAN OF INDICTMENT

Oklahoma Governor's Latest Charges Characterized as False.

COURT EVIDENCE

Walton Impeachment Proceedings Continue—to Arm Citizenry

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 21.—Bitter denial of Governor Walton's latest indictment against the Ku Klux Klan was expressed by the Oklahoma realm of the Klan here today.

N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Klan in Oklahoma, who is now charged with taking personal part in flogging parties characterized the charge as another framed attempt at libel and character assassination.

Governor Walton's latest sensational charges were continued in a transcript of the first evidence taken by the military board now in session in Oklahoma City conducting an investigation of the alleged domination of the Klan in the city and country.

The transcript of evidence was accompanied by a statement by the governor in which he said the necessary guns will be placed in the hands of every man in Oklahoma who is opposed to the Klan.

Oklahoma City, Sept. 21.—Governor J. C. Walton addressed "to the citizens of Oklahoma and to the American people," a statement that he "has crossed the Rubicon" in his war against the invisible empire in Oklahoma and that from this hour on it is a fight to the finish.

Governor Walton supplemented his declaration with excerpts of testimony taken by the military court of inquiry from N. J. Jewett, grand dragon of the Klan, Oklahoma realm; Judge Clark, dean of the Oklahoma judiciary; Sheriff Thomas Cavanah of Oklahoma City and County Attorney Wright.

It was the first intimation that the military court has questioned the grand dragon, the sheriff and Judge Clark. It is voluminous and shows by their own admissions that they are or were members of the Ku Klux Klan.

The statement which prefaces the transcript of evidence concludes with the passage that "Jewett and his invisible empire shall not pass in this state. If necessary, I shall arm every man in the state who is opposed to his empire."

Military reinforcements came to the capital to strengthen the "ring of steel" which the governor has drawn around the state house through his power as commander of the military during martial law.

By this move observers of the situation see physical confirmation of the governor's full determination to prevent by armed force convening of the house of representatives for the avowed purpose of instituting impeachment proceedings. "Extra troops are now being mobilized here and I do not propose to permit this unlawful and treasonable assembly," the governor declared today.

Solons to Meet

The governor, in a proclamation, ordered fiery crosses, which have been erected in many cities since statewide martial law was declared Sunday, removed immediately. They are "pagan emblems of fear, hatred and rebellion," the governor said.

The first definite movement of the legislative branch of the government challenging the executive arm of Oklahoma came when half a dozen legislators sent out their call for assembly of the lower house of the legislature in the face of the governor's threat to use the military to prevent such a measure. It was said from their headquarters that the quorum was far in excess of the needed number.

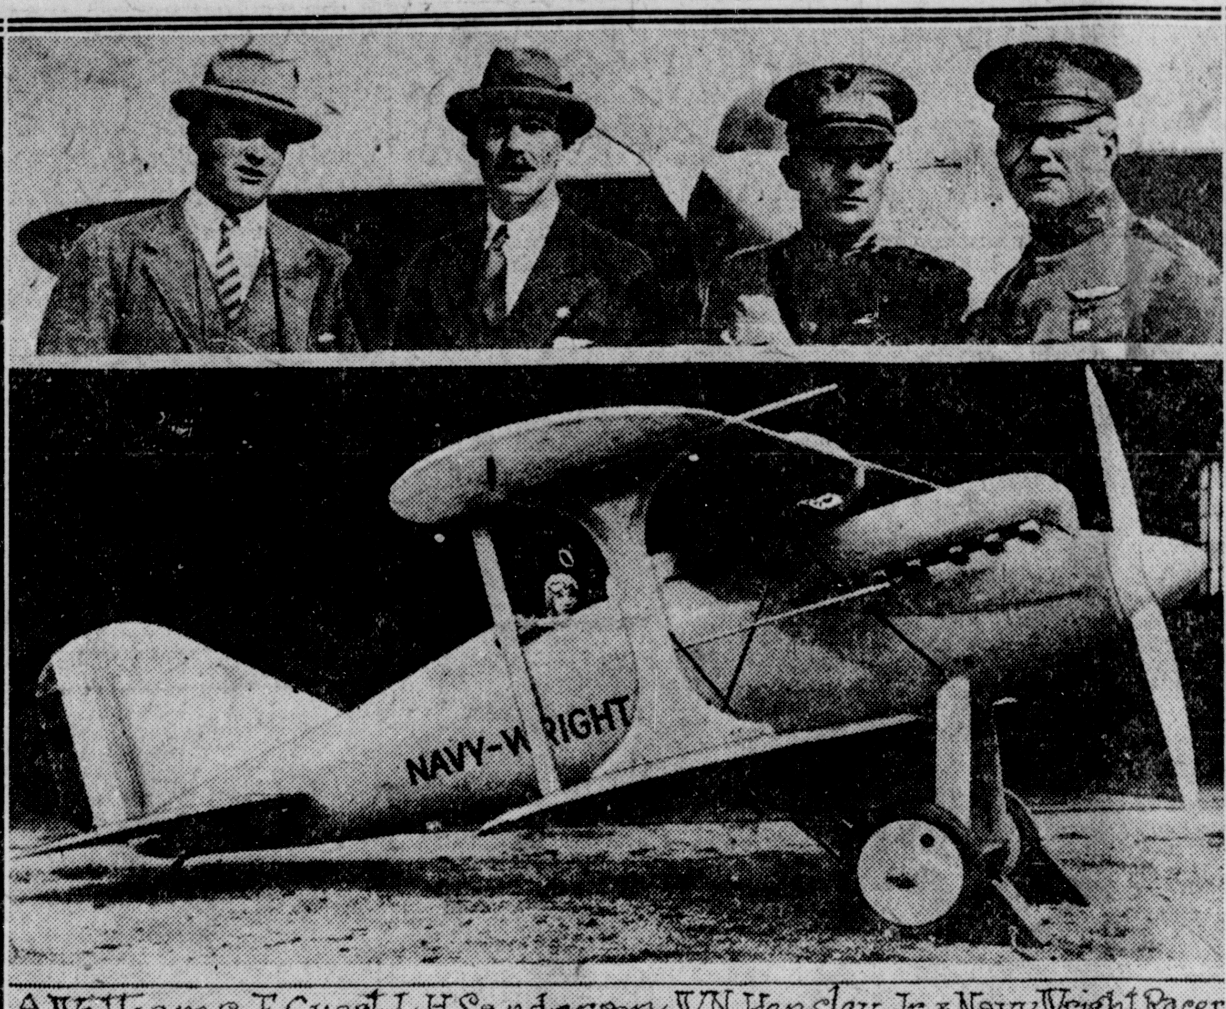

There was every assurance of legislators that they would make a concerted effort to pass the military guard at the executive chambers and assemble in the hall of the lower house. This will be done to establish a precedent upon which they can base an appeal to the United States district court for a decision on their right to meet the governor. The state supreme court will not be asked for an opinion, it being held by the legislators that their assembly as a court of inquiry is superior to the supreme judiciary of the state.

For the first time in the war, the governor shows anxiety over finance. He calls upon "the people who believe in a representative form of government to immediately assist financially."

Governor Walton reiterates that "two governments can not exist in this state at the same time," and defines the issue as between the sovereignty of Oklahoma and the rule of the invisible empire.

He attacks state newspapers who oppose his methods and denies that the writ of habeas corpus has ever been suspended in Oklahoma, save in Tulsa county.

Harding Plan of Consolidating Rail Properties of U. S. Will be Abandoned

Washington, Sept. 21.—President Coolidge has virtually decided to abandon one of the big policies of the late President Harding—that of compelling the railroads of the country to consolidate into regional systems, it was learned today from authoritative sources.

That is the first late President's major policies to go into the discard under the new administration.

Regional consolidation was the remedy for the railroad problem which Mr. Harding and Senator Cummins (R) of Iowa, chairman of the Senate interstate commerce committee, favored above all others. It furnished the keynote for all of the late president's utterances on transportation matters during his fatal western trip. He dealt with it specifically and at length in Kansas City.

As a result, however, of the conferences which the new president has held since taking up his duties, it now appears extremely unlikely that congress will be asked to pass upon the plan at all, or if it is brought up it will not be pushed. In any event, it will not be the chief plank in the administration's railroad policy in the 68th congress, as it would have been under Mr. Harding.

Various reasons are assigned for the abandonment of the proposal:

1—The strong opposition of most of the railroads themselves.

2—The even more strenuous opposition of the so-called Lafolette group in the new congress, shared, too, by many of the more conservative western senators.

3—The feeling on the part of Mr. Coolidge and some of his advisers that the best thing to do with the railroads at this time is go slow in the matter of legislation.

Voluntary consolidation is now permitted under the transportation act for those roads that want it, and it is felt that to stage a fight for compulsory consolidation at this time would be fraught with more danger than the narrow administration majority in the new Congress care to invite.

FIRE APPARATUS IS GIFT OF FORD

Washington, Sept. 20.—Henry Ford, while in Washington recently, visited Mt. Vernon. It was the first time he had ever seen the picturesque home where George Washington lived and died. The millionaire manufacturer showed a keen interest in the buildings and the priceless relics they contain. Then the practical side of his nature asserted itself. "What precautions have you against fire?" he asked. He was shown a row of red fire buckets, filled with water. Ford seemed deeply concerned at the thought of Mt. Vernon falling a prey to flame. Today a complete chemical engine, the last word in fire fighting apparatus, arrived in Mt. Vernon. It was the gift of the Detroit manufacturer.

FESS WILL ADDRESS CHURCH GATHERING

Columbus, Sept. 21.—Covers for 1,200 will be laid at the joint banquet of the Ohio annual conference of the M. E. Church, and the Ohio Laymen's association, to be held here today.

United States Senator S. D. Fess and Bishop W. D. Oldham will speak. One hundred and fifty graduates of Ohio Wesleyan University attended the banquet of the Alumni Association of the conference Thursday night. Rev. W. C. Hartinger, Columbus, was elected president; Rev. N. E. Butler, Lancaster, vice president and Rev. W. H. Mitchell, Jr., Jackson, secretary-treasurer. James A. White, Columbus, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, told the conference in an address that while state enforcement of prohibition had cost Ohio $108,000, fines collected amounted to more than $1,250,000.

Narragansett (R. I.), Sept. 21.—The steamer Lexington, of the Colonial Line from New York bound for Providence, went aground on the rocks in Narragansett bay early today. A steam lighter was taking off the passengers. It was feared that the steamer would go to pieces.

TRIAL DATE IS SET FOR EARLY IN THE MONTH

Accused Officials Will Stand Hearings in Preble County

Columbus, Sept. 21.—When arraigned today before Common Pleas Judge Duncan, pleas of not guilty were entered by William G. Benham, Columbus, president of the defunct R. L. Dollings Company of Ohio, and by Dwight Harrison, also of Columbus, vice president of the Dollings Company. The pleas relate to indictments recently handed down by the Franklin County Grand Jury accusing Benham and Harrison with obtaining money under false pretenses, and with making false statements as to the financial condition of subsidiaries of the Dollings Company.

Harrison's trial here was fixed for October 15. Date for Benham's trial was not determined.

Columbus, Sept. 21.—Arraignment today of William G. Benham, president, and Dwight Harrison, general manager and secretary, of the defunct R. L. Dollings company of Ohio, in the Franklin County Common Pleas Court, was preceded by announcement from Attorney General Crabbe that the trial of the two officials in Preble County has been set for October 8.

The trials in Franklin County will start October 15, according to Prosecutor King.

Nine indictments in Preble County, and four in Franklin County, charge Benham and Harrison with obtaining money under false pretenses, with embezzlement, and with making false statements.

William G. Pickrel, Dayton, one of the receivers for the Dayton Recording Devices Company, Dollings subsidiary, late Thursday told Common Pleas Judge Duncan that stockholders in the Dayton concern would not receive a cent for their holdings.

Bids received by the receivers for the Dayton property all held to be too low by Judge Duncan. The receivers were requested to make further effort to sell the property, and to report to the court next Tuesday.

Against total assets, of the Dayton subsidiary, of approximately $500,000, the Dollings company alone holds notes of more than $700,000, Mr. Pickrel told Judge Duncan.

PLAN TO DISPOSE OF AMERICAN SHIPS IS NOT PERMITTED

Washington, Sept. 21.—The government can not dispose of its merchant marine through the so-called subsidiary corporation plan, the department of justice declared in a formal opinion handed to President Coolidge.

The decision leaves the government with two alternatives, it was stated. They are: First, active government ownership and operation of the merchant marine in competition with the fleets of the world; second, to go into the open market and sell the ships to the highest bidders at a huge loss on the original investment.

The first proposal, it was emphasized, had the approval of the late President Harding and his administration. Mr. Harding held that rather than sell the ships for a fraction of their worth, the government should operate them.

At the shipping board it was indicated that cash prices so far offered for ships are so unsatisfactory that no sales will be made and the government will intensify its operation. It was learned that the board already has worked out a comprehensive plan for government operation and is prepared to put it into effect if approved by President Coolidge. Chairman Farley and two members of the board are out of the city, but will return Tuesday so that a conference may be held and a decision reached.

The decision, written by Attorney General Daugherty, practically wipes out a plan evolved for the disposition of the fleet after two years of intensive study. It was based on the fact that the merchant marine act provides for the sale of ships and not an exchange of title for stock in a corporation, as proposed in the plan approved by the majority of the shipping board and known as the "Lasker-Farley plan."

The shipping board proposed that various state legislatures should charter corporations for the operation of fleets of the shipping board. Stock issued by these corporations was to be held by the board until earnings retired the stock, when the ships were to become the property of the corporations.

COUNTS DENIES CHARGES MADE BY GOVERNMENT

Declares Testimony Made by Witnesses for Prosecution Untrue

Cleveland, Sept. 21.—Former Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, democratic candidate for president in 1920, took the stand as a defense character witness when the conspiracy trial of four prominent Ohioans was resumed in United States district court here today. Mr. Cox was followed on the stand by Senators Frank B. Willis and Simon D. Fess and Governor A. V. Donahey. With former Governor James E. Campbell, who testified yesterday the list of witnesses will include three former governors, the present chief executive and both United States senators.

Cleveland, Sept. 21.—A. Frank Counts, third of four defendants to take the witness stand in the conspiracy trial now in progress here before Federal Judge D. C. Westenhaver, continued to testify in his own defense today by flatly denying and characterizing as "absolutely untrue" the testimony presented by various government witnesses.

Fred Counts, brother of A. Frank Counts, and formerly federal prohibition agent of Cleveland, is the only defendant who has not appeared as a witness for the defense. He is expected to testify later today.

The others under indictment are Samuel A. Hoskins, politician and former chairman of the state civil service commission, and Joseph Shearer, formerly federal prohibition director of Ohio.

Frank Counts denied that he ever received a cent from Louis Auerbach for "protection" to the Auerbach "Barber Supply" company, and that he ever took up with his brother as federal prohibition agent any matters relating to clients charged with violating the liquor laws.

Thirteen character witnesses including Dr. Albert E. Smith, president of the Ohio Northern University and former Governor James E. Campbell, of Columbus, appeared for the defendants yesterday and all vouched for them.

Governor A. Victor Donahey will appear today as a character witness for Hoskins and Shearer having been served with a subpoena by telephone yesterday by U. S. Marshal George A. Stauffer. Counsel for the defense said today they will ask special permission of the court to place the governor on the stand as soon as he arrives so as to keep him from his official duties any longer than necessary.

United States Senators Simeon D. Fess and Frank B. Willis will also testify today as character witnesses for the defendants.

CAVALRY CHARGES REBELLIOUS BULGARIAN REDS IN SOFIA; MANY ARE KILLED

Athens, Sept. 21.—Many persons were killed and wounded in a clash between rebellious Bulgarian Reds and police at Sofia, according to a report received here by way of Salonika.

Bulgarian cavalry charged the crowds with drawn sabres. Some of the wounded are believed to have died from stab wounds and beatings administered by the police. Many arrests were made. A policeman was killed by a bomb explosion.

The Bulgarian government is taking drastic measures to quell the revolutionary movement.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS IS NOW CONSIDERED

May be Called to Consider Problems Confronting Farmers

REPORTS ARE MADE

Railroad Rates are Blamed As Contributing to Situation

Washington, Sept. 21.—While President Coolidge considered the summoning of Congress in special session to deal with farm problems, new reports of agricultural distress were brought to the capital today by Senators returning from trips through the west.

Appeals for administration action to lift the farmers' burdens were made by Senator Lynn J. Frazier, Republican of North Dakota, and Senator Pat Harrison, Democrat of Mississippi. They were joined by Senator Peter Norbeck, Republican of South Dakota, in describing the agriculture situation as "desperate." All three senators reached the capital after having spent several months in the agriculture sections of the west.

President Coolidge meanwhile continued his conferences with cabinet members, legislators and experts from the Departments of Commerce and Agriculture. The plight of the farmers and the possible calling of an extra session of Congress were discussed at today's cabinet meeting.

Senator Frazier, former non-partisan governor of North Dakota, endorsed the recent statements of Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, who termed the agriculture situation "one of the worst in history."

"The situation among American farmers in the West is one of the worst in history," said Frazier. "I agree with Borah in his economic description of the west. The farmers really need government action to relieve the present situation."

Frazier said he would call upon President Coolidge to "lay before the executive the needs of our farmers." Senator Borah paid a similar visit to the president earlier in the week.

"The farmers need legislative relief," Frazier added. "I personally believe that prices of farm products must be stabilized before he can obtain permanent relief. I favor a bill on the order of the Norris-Sinclair measure, introduced at the last session, which guaranteed a fair return on farm products. There must be a price guarantee on wheat. Other crops will then respond. It is only by such a desperate remedy that this situation can be met."

"Railroad rates are largely to blame. The present cost of transportation must be reduced and Congress should provide the way. The cost of freight is so high farmers cannot transport their products to market except at a loss."

"The situation is desperate and there is no question about the emergency. Thousands of farmers are going broke and forced to lose their homes and farms in the existing conditions."

Senator Harrison, a Democratic leader in the senate, favored the calling of a special session but urged the president to "let congress select its own program of relief."

GOVERNMENT GETS ONE HALF MILLION

Washington, Sept. 21.—The government will receive approximately half a million dollars in taxes from the Dempsey-Firpo fight, the bureau of internal revenue announced today. Taxes for the admissions alone amounted to $108,054.80, but this total will be greatly augmented by income tax returns from the principals, promoters and others who profited from the fight.

'DOPE' SCANDAL IS PROMISED PIQUA

Piqua, Sept. 21.—More startling investigations and arrests may follow in the "dope ring" investigation conducted by Federal Officer Frank Bauer, of Columbus, Monday night and Tuesday according to a statement made by the federal officer here.

The federal officer declared he has positive information that one man here received $2,000 in two weeks as his fee for peddling the "dope" and that Piqua may be astonished to know the names of some of the persons engaged in the traffic.

Clifford Knapp, 32, was arrested by the officer and Patrolman John Evans, Monday at midnight, charged with the illegal possession of morphine and is in the county jail in default of $10,000 bond, awaiting arraignment before the Miami county grand jury which convenes about October 1st or thereafter.

The fleet of destroyers, stopped at Bremerton for several hours, he said, during which time he made efforts to be transferred to the ship, which was the first of the seven to go on the rocks.

He said he believes he would have been successful, in getting on the destroyer if the boat had remained at Bremerton, a short time longer. Young Geiger has been in the navy for three years.

ELLIS ISLAND.

The British Ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes, acting on the complaints of British subjects who have had unpleasant experiences at the immigrant detention station at Ellis Island, has made to his government a report in which he criticizes very sharply the conditions that he observed at the island. He found the quarters overcrowded, unclean and generally uncomfortable and declares that decent and respectable persons who are unfortunately subject to detention there ought not to have to undergo the hardships that they must now endure.

Let it be admitted at once that conditions at Ellis Island are not satisfactory. Under the present system of limitation and examination they probably never can be. Sir Auckland Geddes himself says that the conditions of which he complains are not so much the fault of the administering officials as of the immigrants themselves. A very large proportion of those who are detained are diseased or unused through their poverty and their manner of life at home to cleanly and sanitary habits. Under the old system of unrestricted immigration few if any of the better-ordered aliens would have had to submit to confinement with such persons. They would have been passed expeditiously through the station and permitted to land. But under the new law, which establishes monthly quotas from each foreign country, a certain number of desirable immigrants, whose only offense is that they are in excess of the stipulated quota, are every month obliged to spend some time at least in the detention pens. It is this sort of immigrant who complains, and reasonably, of what he has to undergo at Ellis Island.

Sir Auckland Geddes suggests that some way ought to be found to examine immigrants at the ports of departure, so that those who are sure to be turned back for one reason or another shall not make the journey only to meet disappointment at the end. That is what our own immigration authorities have always recommended. The difficulty has been that the other nations have not liked the idea of having American officials examine their citizens on their home soil. But it is not really necessary to have the examination conducted by Americans. If the European governments would undertake the duty themselves and permit only those to take ship who seem clearly eligible, they would spare their less fortunate citizens a great deal of discomfort and unhappiness.

Meanwhile our own lawmakers ought to try to find a way to amend the immigration law so as to make the enforcement of the quota provisions less of a hardship to self-respecting men and women from abroad. If nothing else can be done, it seems that those who are detained merely because they are in excess of the quota of their nation might be kept in quarters different from those who are turned back for other reasons. That would meet most of the criticisms that the British Ambassador makes.

A HISTORIC TREE.

The Washington Elm at Cambridge is dead and must, we suppose, be cut down. Thus passes the most famous tree in the United States. When the weight of historic association is considered it is, perhaps, the most famous tree in the world. Americans who preserve a sentimental attachment to the monuments of the past will feel a sort of personal loss in the death of this old elm akin to that which they feel when some eminent and useful citizen passes away.

Under this tree George Washington stood when he took command of the Revolutionary army, then besieging the British in Boston. It was a year and a day before the Declaration of Independence was voted in Philadelphia. It was not quite three months after the first clash of arms at Lexington and Concord. The elm was a noble and sightly tree then, and it has lived on for almost a century and a half to remind succeeding generations of the toil and sacrifice through which our national independence was gained.

And if, as seems certain, the liberty of France and the world-shaking consequences of the French Revolution can be traced back to their sources in our own struggle for freedom, the Washington Elm is a monument that the lovers of liberty and self-government all the world over may venerate. It is a strange coincidence that the tree should die just as the world is passing out of that historical era which may almost be said to have begun with the event that took place under its branches into an era the meaning and the course of which we cannot yet foresee.

Fortunately, the famous elm does not die childless. A thrifty shoot from it was planted some years ago on Cambridge Common; and it may in time become almost as much an object of pilgrimage as the parent tree itself.

INTERESTING.

It is a curious fact that three of the last eight Presidents deliberately dropped the first of their baptismal names when they came to manhood. Stephen Grover Cleveland became Grover Cleveland; Thomas Woodrow Wilson became Woodrow Wilson; and John Calvin Coolidge became Calvin Coolidge. It took something more than dropping a first name to make these men Presidents; but did you ever think that, although nine men out of ten support both a first and a middle name, six out of the last eight Presidents have borne only a single "Christian" name? Apparently there is something in the shorter, crisper form that helps in the game of politics.

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Good fortune has come to a company composed of Xenians, who have struck it rich in oil in the Chanute, Kansas, field. The company bears the name of the Ideal Oil and Gas Company and the officers are composed of the following: O. C. Balar, president, and general manager; O. A. Spahr, vice president; Dr. A. C. Messenger, secretary and Dr. P. R. Madden, treasurer. The company owns a lease right in the heart of the rich oil fields, which has proven very rich wherever it has been developed.

The Board of Directors of the Citizens' National Bank held a meeting this morning and elected Mr. T. Dales Kyle as assistant cashier of the bank. Dr. P. R. Madden returned today from his trip in the West and South, browned by exposure but looking as though his vacation had agreed with him. There has been a general shake up of the men in the Pan-Handle yards, in this city, several having large sized cakes of ice hung on them by being told that the Pan-Handle could get along without them.

with the following: Beat the egg-whites stiff and beat into them one cup of sugar and a drop or two of lemon extract (or vanilla). Put this uncooked meringue on the cake very thickly as it is the dressing for the pudding. Eat warm. We like this better than a liquid sauce. "A Mother": "Fruit Cake Without Spices: Cream together one cup of sugar and one cup of lard; add three eggs well beaten, one cup of cream (or you may use canned cream diluted with cold water in equal parts), one cup of blackberry jam, one cup of seedless raisins, one cup of dates cut small and stoned, one cup of almonds broken small, and three and one-half cups of flour sifted with three and one-half teaspoons of baking powder. Turn the batter into a greased pan (this makes a large cake) and bake in a moderate oven for one hour and 20 minutes—or perhaps a little longer."

EIGHT-YEAR TERM FOR BISHOPS

Cleveland, Sept. 21.—Following extended debate in which the opinion was expressed that the government of the Methodist Episcopal church should be more Democratic, the Ohio conference adopted a memorial to the general conference favoring the election of bishops to a term of eight years instead of for life. The memorial provides that they may be re-elected. The vote was 103 for the memorial and 52 against it.

MR. JAMES W. BOGART
Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. James W. Bogart, born and raised in Columbus, living at 906 Studer avenue, packer at the Federal Glass company's plant, is another strong believer in Ka-di-ok. He says:

"Had I known about Ka-di-ok a year or two ago I could have saved myself a lot of suffering from kidney trouble, as the very first bottle brought me relief. Before I heard of Ka-di-ok I did not know what a good night's rest meant. I had pains across my back; was very nervous, and felt tired and worn out during the day and steadily lost weight."

"I have only used Ka-di-ok for a few weeks and feel like a new man. I am free from backaches, eat well, and sleep fine. I am 47 years of age and am as strong and well today as I ever was. I can truly recommend Ka-di-ok; it goes right to the spot and is a real medicine."

Ka-di-ok is an herbal remedy and can be taken to excellent advantage as a tonic during all seasons of the year. It is especially beneficial in cases of stomach, liver, and kidney trouble, impure blood, and for persons in a run-down, debilitated condition. Ka-di-ok can be had in Xenia at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store. adv

THE EFFORT

When man has done his level best,
I fancy God is satisfied,
He need not be in splendor dressed,
Know north and south and east and west.

Nor tread the paths of pride;
If he is earnest in the test,
God knows how hard he tried.

Not all the good men rise to fame,
Nor all the kings are crowned,
Full many a long forgotten name
Has borne life's battle but to claim
An unremembered mound,
And men from men have suffered blame

When God no fault has found,
'Tis splendid to do the splendid deed,
'Tis sweet to reach the goal,
But oft the dreams of men may lead
Them past their strength, to fall and bleed,
And failure signs the scroll,
But 'tis not said we must succeed
To make the perfect soul.

When man has done his level best,
I fancy God is satisfied,
Though night shall find him sore-
distressed,
Beset by cares, by men oppressed
His victory denied,
God knows how cruel the test
And just how hard he tried!

Today's Talk

DO NOT GRUDGE THE THROW
There are two ways of working—one where a man's head and heart and hands and all that is within him enters the task, and the other where a man merely works at his job. Do the thing into which you feel that you can cast every last spark of vitality and enthusiastic effort.

Do not grudge your throw of chance. Believe in your "star!" To grow truly is to gain confidence with every move that you make. The hand, the voice, the very look a leader's eyes inspires faith on the part of those about him to follow.

There is nothing written about life that assures certainty to anyone along any definite line, except that the rewards for earnest and honest effort are adequate and just.

Just the minute you regret the decision you make, there enters the destroying power of doubt and soon the little devil-worries get in their deadly work.

Look into and through the thing which you attempt. Master it in your own belief.

It is impossible for you to lift others without yourself being lifted in turn. But you must uphold with the certainties of faith—which are the only certainties we know about.

To climb a hill the driver of a machine must "step on the gas." He must furnish added power for the added height to which he aspires.

Every time you say to yourself "I can," "I will," "I do believe," you fortify your soul, you master yourself, you clear the very atmosphere which you breathe.

Remember this: Success is for you!

DISASTER RELIEF IS TOUCHED UPON AT RED CROSS MEET

Miss Louise B. Shaffer, secretary of the Greene County Chapter of the American Red Cross, attended the Regional Conference held by the Red Cross, Tuesday, in Columbus, at the New Southern Hotel.

One of the several interesting features of the conference was the discussion of the Mobilization of resources for disaster relief in Ohio. Fred C. Croxton, chairman of disaster relief, Columbus chapter, lead the discussion. Jerome Watson, Chief of Division of Mines, in explaining the first aid and relief work in the mining industry, said that the department maintained one mine rescue car in Columbus, which could reach any mine within four to seven hours. They also have in constant readiness five first aid trucks, completely equipped and manned by a corps of trained first aid men.

The department employs instructors who teach the men in the mines how to care for minor injuries, and every possible precaution is taken to have the supplies accessible in case of need. The department knows the exact location of the trucks at all times.

When asked if the car and five trucks could be available in case of a disaster, other than in the mines, Mr. Watson, assured the Red Cross that being State property, and subject to the orders of the Governor, that all their equipment would be available.

James E. Bauman, Assistant Director State Department of Health, explained what could be accomplished in time of disaster through their laboratory, in the way of testing water supplies, supplying chemicals for chlorination of water, etc. The personnel of their department would be available as would an emergency fund of $250,000.

A. M. Knight, Chairman Disaster Relief, Clark County Chapter, suggested the plan used by the Springfield committee, as practical for most communities. Instead of purchasing supplies he suggested having a committee which will have a complete list of all available doctors and nurses, their addresses and phone numbers; an estimate of the amount of supplies that could be secured, from local stores and the phone numbers of the stores, the ambulances, trucks, bedding, cots, were located and phone number; vacant buildings or rooms should be listed and capacity noted for use as temporary hospitals. The chairman of the committee should keep a list of available volunteers and data as to where to send for state assistance and what different departments have at their disposal. This data, should be checked every few months in order to keep it up to date, according to Mr. Bauman.

Dr. H. H. Shively, commanding the One Hundred and Twelfth Medical Regiment, told what the Ohio National Guard could do in case of a disaster.

The Red Cross, is now compiling data for each Chapter showing material available, the place it is kept and the amount. This will soon be in the hands of Chairman of Disaster Relief in each community. The discussion at the Regional meeting was an aftermath of the recent Japanese disaster. The National Red Cross went "over the top" in subscriptions for aid for the stricken country. One hundred cents out of every dollar collected by the Red Cross was sent to Japan, officials say and all the expense of the solicitation born by the chapters and national organization.

CENTRAL HIGH TEAM IS SHOWING RAPID IMPROVEMENT, SAID

Art Currie, veteran Central High School quarterback who has arrived home after spending the summer at Saranac Lake, is expected to join the big blue and white football squad immediately.

The coming of Currie will greatly augment the backfield candidates who are making bids for jobs in the ball-toting department of the eleven. From the ruins left by graduation, Coach Earl Burgner is now confident that the new material available with the few veterans, will give the school just as good if not better gridiron representation than last year.

The coming of Currie, rounds out what looks to be an able backfield. This lad has had three years experience calling the signals for the blue and white team and will bring the advantages of a seasoned player back to the backfield. However, it is thought Currie will be shifted from quarter to halfback this season as Byford Botorff who is being tried at the call position, is developing into an able pilot.

Allen Zell a guard last year is developing into a crack candidate at halfback according to advance word. With Currie Fuller, another veteran, and Zell for the halves besides Chitty, a newcomer, those positions seem well taken care of. Holton, a half last year, is being shifted to fullback with much success.

Parks, a freshman, is being schooled to succeed Bob Yeakley at center and bids fair to follow in the big boy's tracks. The line selections are still problematical, but the problem lies in just what selection is best rather than the question of finding somebody to fill us a hole. Washburn is an experienced end and will probably get the call at one flank. Scurry, a colored lad, is making a strong bid for the other flank. This lad is the fastest man on the team and is said to be able to toss a forward pass 60 yards or better. The guard a puzzle last year are giving Coach Burgner the least possible concern of any position this year, and tackles seem to be well taken care of.

There is still a lot of work scheduled for the team before the first game with Wilmington next Friday, but indications are that this year's eleven will be well able to take care of itself.

SPARE HAMMER WHEN WATCHING FOOTBALL GAME SAYS MENTOR

Columbus, Sept. 21.—Many a football player is given credit due another if you'll take the word of Dr. J. W. Wilce for 10 years mentor of the Ohio State teams which have won three Big Ten championships in that decade.

"A strong tackle may support a weaker guard or end," he points out. "Strong guards naturally help the play of tackles or center. A strong end may support an average tackle."

"Think of some of these things in watching a game. When a play goes for a good gain over one position, don't criticize too strongly. The defensive player may have been 'defeated' or he may have been playing a little out of his own position trying to help a teammate. Some players are too ambitious and try to cover too much teritory. Teams frequently assign two or three men to block an especially strong player. This is a compliment to the individual even though he is completely taken out of the play."

One defensive player, Dr. Wilce believes, should 'defeat' or handle one offensive, he says, against the combined efforts of two offensive players. It is expecting a great deal, however, he adds, to ask one defensive player to handle three players sent against him. "A player sometimes knifes through the opposing line and tackles the man with the ball for a loss," he points out. "We hear cheers."

"He tries the same thing again and a long gain is made through the hole he left in the defensive line. We hear groans or jeers. Be tolerant."

"If all players waited on the line on every play, or 'knifed' through the line on each play, the offense would know what plays would gain the best. The good lineman varies his play and occasionally takes chances and plays a hunch. If he wins he's a wonder. If he misjudges only once every second-guesser is ready to tell him exactly how he should have done it. It's the way of the world. Remember we all make mistakes. Be tolerant."

This is one of the many phases of football from the spectators standpoint treated in "How to Enjoy Football" a small volume to be off the press next week and written by Dr. Wilce and L. W. St. John, athletic director at Ohio State.

CEDARVILLE AND ANTIOCH WILL PRY OFF FOOTBALL LID

By WONES

Football will be ushered into Greene County on Saturday afternoon on the Antioch College gridiron. Yellow Springs when Coach Earl Prugh's pigskin artists tangle up with the Cedarville College eleven.

The Antioch mentor has been working his charges hard for the past two weeks and he believes that he has them in fair condition. From last year's squad he has Kitchen, who is captain and will play right tackle. Light, one of last season's ends will be found at that position this fall. Boyd will call the numbers for the up county lads while Dittwiler will be one of the halves. The rest of the team will be made up of green material but at that they are already showing good form. The Antioch bunch will be light but speedy. Last Tuesday afternoon the varsity nine engaged in a practice game with a boy's team that is on probation and beat them by a 24 to 0 score. They are promising the same dose to the Cedarville outfit.

Cedarville is being coached by John A. Talcott of Bishop College, Texas. He has been putting his warriors through some mighty long and hard sessions Cedarville will present a formidable eleven as from last year's team nine have turned out. Among them a few local lads. McCoy, Currie and Firm, Plump Flesh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparkling eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth. S. S. S., since 1826, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

BENJAMIN N. LE MAR DIES LATE THURSDAY

Benjamin Nelson LeMar, 73, retired grocer of New Burlington, died at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Amos DeHaven, two miles south of New Burlington, Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. LeMar had been ill for several weeks.

Mr. LeMar was born in Lumberton, Greene County, but had spent practically all of his life in Clinton County. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary E. LeMar, two daughters, Mrs. DeHaven, and Mrs. Weldon Heller, near Wilmington, and one son, Rolla LeMar, of this city. Five brothers, Oscar LeMar, Kirksville, Missouri; John LeMar, New Burlington; William LeMar, Harveysburg; Walter LeMar, near Oregonia, and Lawrence LeMar, Los Angeles, California, and one sister, Mrs. Ida Hockett, near Waynesville, also survive.

Mr. LeMar was a member of the New Burlington Order of F. and A. M. and of the Methodist Church of that village.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, from the New Burlington Methodist Church with interment at New Burlington.

EXPERTS KILLED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Washington, Sept. 21.—Two government experts were killed and seven others so seriously injured that physicians say they can not live, in an explosion of gasoline at the Bureau of Standards.

Logan L. Lauer of Lower Salem, Ohio, was killed instantly by the force of the blast and Hugh J. Cook of this city died at Emergency hospital several hours later. Joseph E. Kendig, Stephen N. Less and Henry K. Cummings all of this city, were so badly burned and injured that their lives are despaired of. The men were experimenting in gasoline conservation work, their activities being designed to effect a saving of 500,000, 000 gallons annually to consumers of this country. As a result of the explosion and the wrecking of the plant, together with the loss of the men, this work will be at a standstill for several years. The laboratory was the only one in the world equipped for such work.

BERNARD MACFADDEN

Move the head far over to the left. Now place the palm of the right hand against the side of the head and press against the head as it moves from far to the left to far to the right. Continue a while and then take the same exercise, reversing the position by using the left hand against the head instead of the right.

Now place the right hand behind the head. Now pressing against the head with the right hand, bring the head from far forward to far backward. Continue until tired and vary the movement by using at times the left hand instead of the right.

You may now take a third cup of hot water. You may then take the following exercises.

Stand erect, bend the knees, lowering the body to the crouching position. Rise and repeat until a distinct feeling of fatigue is noticed. On each occasion when rising to an erect position be sure to "snap" the knees backward with a slight "jerk" at the end of the movement.

Next lie prone on the floor, face downward. Place the open hands near the chest, the elbows extended far out at the sides. Raise the body by straightening the arms.

Now interlace the fingers of both hands behind the head. Now with the head far forward press against the head as it is moved far backward. Continue the movement until fatigued. Then take another cup of hot water.

Grasp the sides of a chair. Have the body leaning forward. Toes on the floor, the head over the seat of the chair. Bring the elbows close to the sides and then raise the body by straightening the arms.

Next place the palm of the right hand across the forehead with the head far back, clasping the right wrist with the left hand. Now bring the head far forward, resisting the movement vigorously with the strength of both arms. Continue until tired.

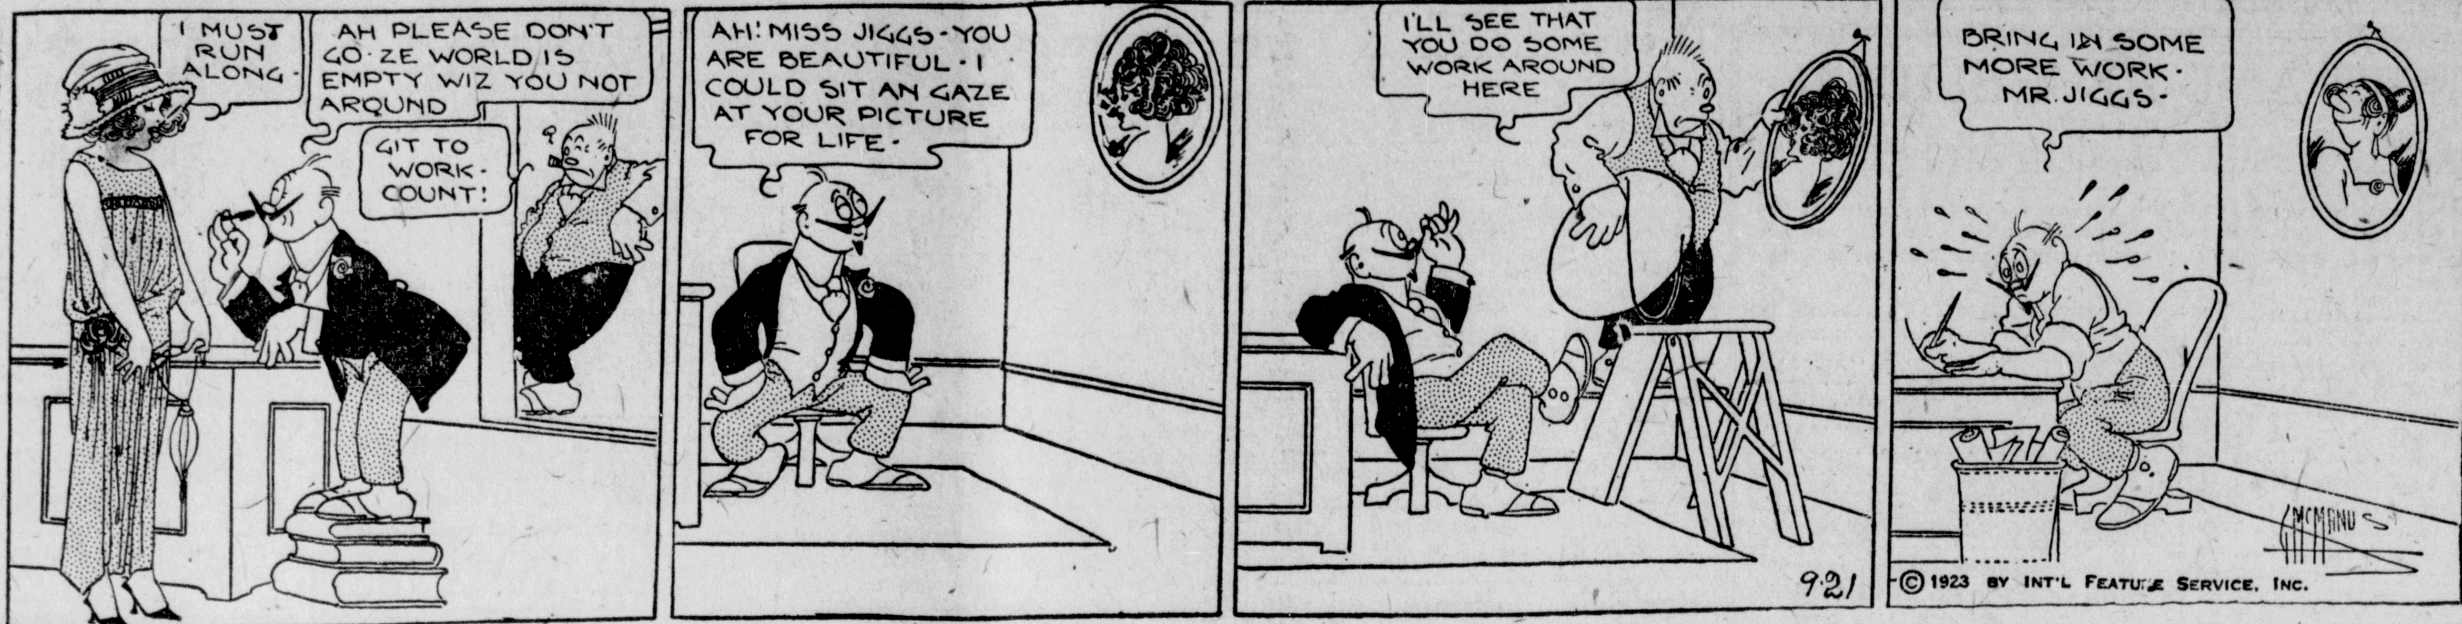

If you find your capacity is unequal to the hot water suggested, then simply take as much as you can without inconvenience or discomfort. Each day, however, while following this method, you will find your hot water drinking capacity will increase, though, as a rule, a person of average weight and height can take from one to two quarts without serious inconvenience.

PARADE FEATURES MEETING

A junior branch of the order, including boys 14 years old and older was authorized by the convention.

FARM NEWS OF GREENE COUNTY

PRINCE TELLS HOW TO DRY SEED CORN SO THAT GERMINATING POWERS INTACT

Another set of instructions concerning field selection of seed corn, is being announced by County Agent Ford S. Prince, as a result of the necessity of seed corn selection and storage, since the recent frosts.

After the field selection of the seed corn, the storage and drying process takes place. Through drying of seed corn is necessary, according to Mr. Prince. Freezing weather destroys the germinating power of corn with a high moisture content, while thoroughly dry corn has been subjected to temperatures considerably below zero without losing its germinating power. "If seed corn selection is late it is essential that the moisture content be reduced quickly, and artificial heat is valuable for this," Mr. Prince says. "In order to dry out satisfactorily seed corn must be stored where the air circulation is good. It is not safe to pile ears on the floor or on a shelf. The ears must be separated so that the air can circulate around them. Storing them up is a convenient and inexpensive way. Enough corn for one acre can be suspended from a nail. The ears do not touch each other and are easily taken out.

"A cheap and safe device can be made by cutting the wires of a woven fence midway between the stay wires. The ends of the wires, are bent up and an ear of corn stuck on each wire. Each hanger will take care of 18 or 20 ears. There are other good methods of storing seed corn. In fact any method which allows free circulation of air around each ear is satisfactory. Nails or spikes driven through boards and planks make good seed corn racks. The nails should be at least four inches apart each way. Seed corn storage racks can be made of two-by-fours and plastering lath. Seed corn drying racks can be purchased, but cheaper homemade contrivances are just as satisfactory.

"A well-ventilated room is essential. Attics, empty rooms in houses, lofts over wagon sheds, and corn cribs are alright. Protect the corn from rain, but leave the doors and windows open so that the corn will get the advantage of the air."

TOM TAGGART ILL

Thomas Taggart, former Xenia, former chairman of the democratic national committee, former senator from Indiana, and three times mayor of Indianapolis, is seriously ill at his home in Hyannisport, Massachusetts. He was taken to Boston Friday. Mrs. Taggart, and two physicians are reported to be in constant attendance at his bedside.

COLUMBUS WOMAN WINS

Cleveland, Sept. 20.—In the first game played in the women's tournament of the National Horseshoe Pitchers' association, Mrs. J. F. Francisco of Columbus, the present world's champion, easily defeated Mrs. Thomas Heenan by a score of 50 to 3.

NO HARM MEANT DECLARES FISHER

Delaware, Sept. 21.—Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University meant no "dishonor" to the late President Harding when he said in a recent speech at East Liverpool that Mr. Harding, previous to his election, had expressed a desire that the United States enter the League of Nations, he said here tonight in his final address in Ohio.

"I deeply regret that the spirit of those remarks was taken by anybody as a slur upon Mr. Harding," he declared.

"The gist of my interview in 1920 with Mr. Harding was that he intended to redeem his party that he in an 'Association of Nations,' and that the only way to do so was by making the necessary changes in the existing League," Professor Fisher continued. "Later in the campaign he publicly said substantially this very thing. He said what there is of good in the existing League should be used in building the association. And we all know that Mr. Taft, and Mr. Root, Hughes, Hoover, Strauss, Lowell, etc., as pro-leaguers, asked and obtained votes—probably millions of them—for Mr. Harding on that very basis.

"In saying what I did I intended not to dishonor but to honor Mr. Harding, and those who actually heard me took it as I meant it. I meant to correct the growing false impression that the promised Association of Nations was to be dropped altogether, a false impression which as Mr. Wellman recently showed, Mr. Harding would have corrected himself had he lived by calling the nations in a world conference.

"Those who now so loudly complain of what I said are those who do not want that platform pledge redeemed."

Mr. Fisher said that he had "yet to meet and Ohioan who took offense" at his remarks.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

RUBY ATTEMPTS CHAPERONAGE Chapter XXXIII.

"Where are you going?" Joan asked as I followed her.

"With you, dear. It isn't nice for a girl of your age to go about as you do, after this I shall go with you."

With a shrug and a frown she went out, walking very fast. I rather wondered she made no further objections, and hurrying, I walked beside her, chatting. I asked where she was going.

"To the hotel," she replied naming a popular hostelry.

All the afternoon I sat watching the dancers, Joan never once came near me, but I noticed she never missed a dance. I was glad to note the boys were young, 17 or 18 at most. There were gray-haired men there too, dancing with young girls, but it was the boys who danced with Joan. As the orchestra finished playing "Home, Sweet Home," I hurried out. But Joan had disappeared.

She was nowhere about. I was sure she had purposely given me the slip. I hurried home, but it was not until we had finished dinner, she came in.

For a time I persisted, but either during the dance or just before it was over, Joan invariably eluded me, and was late in arriving home. I concluded I was doing more harm than good by insisting upon going with her and upon her promise to come directly home when the dance was over I no longer accompanied her.

"I shall have to trust her," I said to myself after a long talk with her, in which I did all the talking. She was sulky. Said I had been the cause of the boys and girls poking fun at her. To tell the truth I was nearly distracted, but now I received no sympathy when I talked with Paul. He said: "The child is all right. She is young, entitled to a little fun. She didn't have much while I was away according to her story. You are always fussing about something. I'm too busy to be bothered with trifles."

So Joan had been complaining to her father because of the way we lived while he was away.

"I don't think any of us had much fun while you were away," I replied bitterly. "I am sure I didn't."

As usual he changed the subject. He never seemed to want me to speak of our hard times. I am sure he never appreciated just how hard they were—had he perhaps he might have been more sympathetic. But he hated anything that made him uncomfortable, really would not talk if such a subject were mentioned.

He said nothing more about his wish for more money and I had nearly forgotten it. Had I not been anxious because of Joan I should have been quite happy. We were getting acquainted with some nice people and went out occasionally. Paul seemed to have recovered all of his old sang-froid, appeared genial, glad to be with others. As always, when he cared to make the effort, he made friends easily.

We saw a good deal of Dave Logan, and when we invited our new friends in to dine or play cards he always made one of the party.

Evelyn Markham still came to see me, but when she found Logan was invariably one of any company she refused to join us, but confined her calls to times when I was alone. I thought her very unjust, very narrow, but nothing I could say altered her opinion that Dave Logan was not the right kind of a man to be intimate with us.

And Logan, in spite of his intimacy with us, was as close-mouthed now as Paul. Encouraged by his sympathy, and his former apparent frankness I had several times tried to talk with him about what Paul did for him, and hinted I would like to know what he paid him; but to no avail. He was heavily gay, complimentary, but sidestepped any questions, telling me to take life less seriously.

As I have said he seldom came empty handed. And regardless of prohibition he often brought us a bottle of wine, or whiskey, which he declared to be "old stock" which wouldn't hurt us. Paul when at home had always kept liquor in the house, although he was a very moderate drinker, so I thought nothing strange that Logan should supply us from his cellar.

We often discussed the new law. I was in favor of it and both he and Paul very much against it. They both declared it took away the vaunted liberty of the American people, that it led to crime and deceit. They contended it was perfectly all right to break such a law.

BITTER DENIAL MADE BY KLAN OF INDICTMENT

Oklahoma Governor's Latest Charges Characterized as False.

COURT EVIDENCE

Walton Impeachment Proceedings Continue—to Arm Citizenry

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 21.—Bitter denial of Governor Walton's latest indictment against the Ku Klux Klan was expressed by the Oklahoma realm of the Klan here today.

N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Klan in Oklahoma, who is now charged with taking personal part in flogging parties characterized the charge as another framed attempt at libel and character assassination.

Governor Walton's latest sensational charges were continued in a transcript of the first evidence taken by the military board now in session in Oklahoma City conducting an investigation of the alleged domination of the Klan in the city and county.

The transcript of evidence was accompanied by a statement by the governor in which he said the necessary guns will be placed in the hands of every man in Oklahoma who is opposed to the Klan.

Oklahoma City, Sept. 21.—Governor J. C. Walton addressed "to the citizens of Oklahoma and to the American people," a statement that he "has crossed the Rubicon" in his war against the invisible empire in Oklahoma and that from this hour on it is a fight to the finish.

Governor Walton supplemented his declaration with excerpts of testimony taken by the military court of inquiry from N. J. Jewett, grand dragon of the Klan, Oklahoma realm; Judge Clark, dean of the Oklahoma judiciary; Sheriff Thomas Cavanaugh of Oklahoma City and County Attorney Wright.

It was the first intimation that the military court has questioned the grand dragon, the sheriff and Judge Clark. It is voluminous and shows by their own admissions that they are or were members of the Ku Klux Klan.

The statement which prefaces the transcript of evidence concludes with the passage that "Jewett and his invisible empire shall not pass in this state. If necessary, I shall arm every man in the state who is opposed to his empire."

Military reinforcements came to the capital to strengthen the "ring of steel" which the governor has drawn around the state house through his power as commander of the military during martial law.

By this move observers of the situation see physical confirmation of the governor's full determination to prevent by armed force convening of the house of representatives for the avowed purpose of instituting impeachment proceedings. "Extra troops are now being mobilized here and I do not propose to permit this unlawful and treasonable assembly," the governor declared today.

Solons to Meet

The governor, in a proclamation, ordered fiery crosses, which have been erected in many cities since statewide martial law was declared Sunday, removed immediately. They are "pagan emblems of fear, hatred and rebellion," the governor said.

The first definite movement of the legislative branch of the government challenging the executive arm of Oklahoma came when half a dozen legislators sent out their call for assembly of the lower house of the legislature in the face of the governor's threat to use the military to prevent such a measure. It was said from their headquarters that the quorum was far in excess of the needed number.

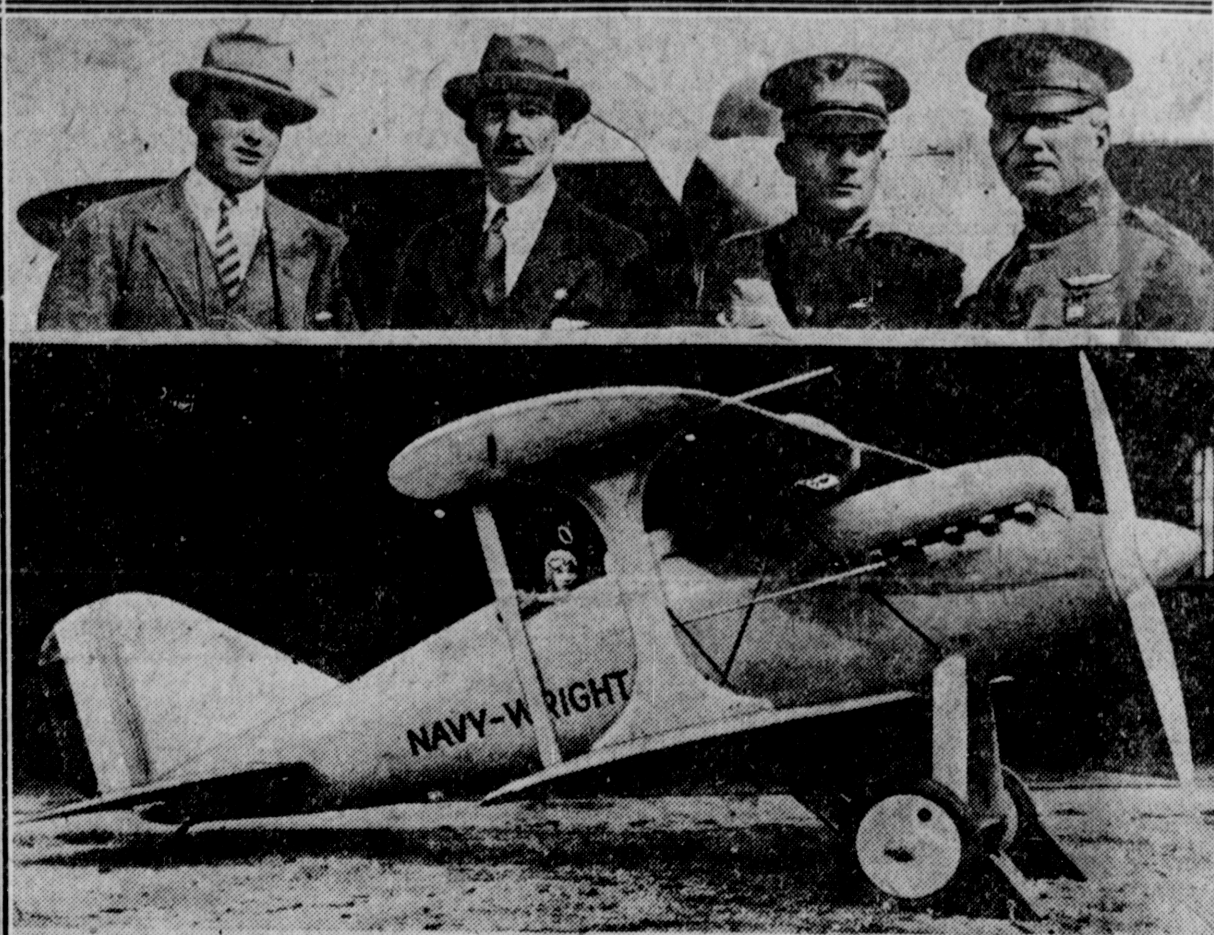

There was every assurance of legislators that they would make a concerted effort to pass the military guard at the executive chambers and assemble in the hall of the lower house. This will be done to establish a precedent upon which they can base an appeal to the United States district court for a decision on their right to meet the governor. The state supreme court will not be asked for an opinion, it being held by the legislators that their assembly as a court of inquiry is superior to the supreme judiciary of the state.

For the first time in the war, the governor shows anxiety over finance. He calls upon "the people who believe in a representative form of government to immediately assist financially."

Governor Walton reiterates that "two governments can not exist in this state at the same time," and defines the issue as between the sovereignty of Oklahoma and the rule of the invisible empire.

He attacks state newspapers who oppose his methods and denies that the writ of habeas corpus has ever been suspended in Oklahoma, save in Tulsa county.

Harding Plan of Consolidating Rail Properties of U. S. Will be Abandoned

Washington, Sept. 21.—President Coolidge has virtually decided to abandon one of the big policies of the late President Harding—that of compelling the railroads of the country to consolidate into regional systems, it was learned today from authoritative sources.

That is the first late President's major policies to go into the discard under the new administration. Regional consolidation was the remedy for the railroad problem which Mr. Harding and Senator Cummins (R) of Iowa, chairman of the Senate interstate commerce committee, favored above all others. It furnished the keynote for all of the late president's utterances on transportation matters during his fatal western trip. He dealt with it specifically and at length in Kansas City.

As a result, however, of the conferences which the new president has held since taking up his duties, it now appears extremely unlikely that congress will be asked to pass upon the plan at all, or if it is brought up it will not be pushed. In any event, it will not be the chief plank in the administration's railroad policy in the 68th congress, as it would have been under Mr. Harding.

Various reasons are assigned for the abandonment of the proposal:

1.—The strong opposition of most of the railroads themselves.

2.—The even more strenuous opposition of the so-called Lafolette group in the new congress, shared, too, by many of the more conservative western senators.

3.—The feeling on the part of Mr. Coolidge and some of his advisers that the best thing to do with the railroads at this time is go slow in the matter of legislation.

Voluntary consolidation is now permitted under the transportation act for those roads that want it, and it is felt that to stage a fight for compulsory consolidation at this time would be fraught with more danger than the narrow administration majority in the new Congress can do to invite.

FIRE APPARATUS IS GIFT OF FORD

Washington, Sept. 20.—Henry Ford, while in Washington recently, visited Mt. Vernon. It was the first time he had ever seen the picturesque home where George Washington lived and died. The millionaire manufacturer showed a keen interest in the buildings and the priceless relics they contain. Then the practical side of his nature asserted itself. "What precautions have you against fire?" he asked. He was shown a row of red fire buckets, filled with water. Ford seemed deeply concerned at the thought of Mt. Vernon falling a prey to flame. Today a complete chemical engine, the last word in fire fighting apparatus, arrived in Mt. Vernon. It was the gift of the Detroit manufacturer.

FESS WILL ADDRESS CHURCH GATHERING

Columbus, Sept. 21.—Covers for 1,200 will be laid at the joint banquet of the Ohio annual conference of the M. E. Church, and the Ohio Laymen's association, to be held here today.

United States Senator S. D. Fess and Bishop W. D. Oldham will speak. One hundred and fifty graduates of Ohio Wesleyan University attended the banquet of the Alumni Association of the conference Thursday night. Rev. W. C. Hartinger, Columbus, was elected president; Rev. N. E. Butler, Lancaster, vice president and Rev. W. H. Mitchell, Jr., Jackson, secretary-treasurer.

James A. White, Columbus, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, told the conference in an address that while state enforcement of prohibition had cost Ohio $108,000, fines collected amounted to more than $1,250,000.

Narragansett (Per. R. L. Sept. 21.—

The steamer Lexington, of the Colonial Line from New York, bound for Providence, went aground on the rocks in Narragansett bay early today. A steam lighter was taking off the passengers. It was feared that the steamer would go to pieces.

TRIAL DATE IS SET FOR EARLY IN THE MONTH

Accused Officials Will Stand Hearings in Preble County

Columbus, Sept. 21.—When arraigned today before Common Pleas Judge Duncan, pleas of not guilty were entered by William G. Benham, Columbus, president of the defunct R. L. Dollings Company of Ohio, and by Dwight Harrison, also of Columbus, vice president of the Dollings Company. The pleas relate to indictment recently handed down by the Franklin County Grand Jury accusing Benham and Harrison with obtaining money under false pretenses, and with making false statements as to the financial condition of subsidiaries of the Dollings Company.

Harrison's trial here was fixed for October 15. Date for Benham's trial was not determined.

Columbus, Sept. 21.—Arraignment today of William G. Benham, president, and Dwight Harrison, general manager and secretary, of the defunct R. L. Dollings company of Ohio, in the Franklin County Common Pleas Court, was preceded by announcement from Attorney General Crabbe that the trial of the two officials in Preble County has been set for October 8.

The trials in Franklin County will start October 15, according to Prosecutor King.

Nine indictments in Preble County, and four in Franklin County, charge Benham and Harrison with obtaining money under false pretenses, with embezzlement, and with making false statements.

William G. Pickrel, Dayton, one of the receivers for the Dayton Recording Devices Company, Dollings subsidiary, late Thursday told Common Pleas Judge Duncan that stockholders in the Dayton concern would not receive a cent for their holdings.

Bids received by the receivers for the Dayton property were all held to be too low by Judge Duncan. The receivers were requested to make further effort to sell the property, and to report to the court next Tuesday.

Against total assets, of the Dayton subsidiary, of approximately $500,000, the Dollings company alone holds notes of more than $700,000, Mr. Pickrel told Judge Duncan.

PLAN TO DISPOSE OF AMERICAN SHIPS IS NOT PERMITTED

Washington, Sept. 21.—The government can not dispose of its merchant marine through the so-called subsidiary corporation plan, the department of justice declared in a formal opinion handed to President Coolidge.

The decision leaves the government with two alternatives, it was stated. They are: First, active government ownership and operation of the merchant marine in competition with the fleets of the world; second, to go into the open market and sell the ships to the highest bidder at a huge loss on the original investment.

The first proposal, it was emphasized, had the approval of the late President Harding and his administration. Mr. Harding held that rather than sell the ships for a fraction of their worth, the government should operate them.

At the shipping board it was indicated that cash prices so far offered for ships are so unsatisfactory that no sales will be made and the government will intensify its operation. It was learned that the board already has worked out a comprehensive plan for government operation and is prepared to put it into effect if approved by President Coolidge.

Chairman Farley and two members of the board are out of the city, but will return Tuesday so that a conference may be held and a decision reached.

The decision, written by Attorney General Daugherty, practically wipes out a plan evolved for the disposition of the fleet after two years of intensive study. It was based on the fact that the merchant marine act provides for the sale of ships and not an exchange of title for stock in a corporation, as proposed in the plan approved by the majority of the shipping board and known as the "Lasker-Farley plan."

The shipping board proposed that various state legislatures should charter corporations for the operation of fleets of the shipping board. Stock issued by these corporations was to be held by the board until earnings retired the stock, when the ships were to become the property of the corporations.

WOMEN JURORS IN MAJORITY

Zanesville, O., Sept. 21.—For the first time in the history of the county a grand jury with a majority of the members women is in session here. There are eight women and seven men and, according to Common Pleas Judge C. C. Lemert, it is the most important grand jury during his judgeship.

BOSTON HEIRESS IN ELOPEMENT

COUNTS DENIES CHARGES MADE BY GOVERNMENT

Declares Testimony Made by Witnesses for Prosecution Untrue

Cleveland, Sept. 21.—Former Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, democratic candidate for president in 1920, took the stand as a defense character witness when the conspiracy trial of four prominent Ohioans was resumed in United States district court here today. Mr. Cox was followed on the stand by Senators Frank B. Willis and Simeon D. Fess and Governor A. V. Donahey. With former Governor James E. Campbell, who testified yesterday the list of witnesses will include three former governors, the present chief executive and both United States senators.

Cleveland, Sept. 21.—A. Frank Counts, third of four defendants to take the witness stand in the conspiracy trial now in progress here before Federal Judge D. C. Westenhaver, continued to testify in his own defense today by flatly denying and characterizing as "absolutely untrue" the testimony presented by various government witnesses.

Fred Counts, brother of A. Frank Counts, and formerly federal prohibition agent of Cleveland, is the only defendant who has not appeared as a witness for the defense. He is expected to testify later today.

The others under indictment are Samuel A. Hoskins, politician and former chairman of the state civil service commission, and Joseph Shearer, formerly federal prohibition director of Ohio.

Frank Counts denied that he ever received a cent from Louis Auerbach for "protection" to the Auerbach "Barber Supply" company, and that he ever took up with his brother as federal prohibition agent any matters relating to clients charged with violating the liquor laws.

Thirteen character witnesses including Dr. Albert E. Smith, president of the Ohio Northern University and former Governor James E. Campbell, of Columbus, appeared for the defendants yesterday and all vouched for them.

Governor A. Victor Donahey will appear today as a character witness for Hoskins and Shearer having been served with a subpoena by telephone yesterday by U. S. Marshal George A. Stauffer. Counsel for the defense said today they will ask special permission of the court to place the governor on the stand as soon as he arrives so as to keep him from his official duties any longer than necessary.

United States Senators Simeon D. Fess and Frank B. Willis will also testify today as character witnesses for the defendants.

CAVALRY CHARGES REBELLIOUS BULGARIAN REDS IN SOFIA; MANY ARE KILLED

Athens, Sept. 21.—Many persons were killed and wounded in a clash between rebellious Bulgarian Reds and police at Sofia, according to a report received here by way of Salonika.

Bulgarian cavalry charged the crowds with drawn sabres. Some of the wounded are believed to have died from stab wounds and beatings administered by the police. Many arrests were made.

A policeman was killed by a bomb explosion. The Bulgarian government is taking drastic measures to quell the revolutionary movement.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS IS NOW CONSIDERED

May be Called to Consider Problems Confronting Farmers

REPORTS ARE MADE

Railroad Rates are Blamed As Contributing to Situation

Washington, Sept. 21.—While President Coolidge considered the summoning of Congress in special session to deal with farm problems, new reports of agricultural distress were brought to the capital today by Senators returning from trips through the west.

Appeals for administration action to lift the farmers' burdens were made by Senator Lynn J. Frazier, Republican of North Dakota, and Senator Pat Harrison, Democrat of Mississippi. They were joined by Senator Peter Norbeck, Republican of South Dakota, in describing the agricultural situation as "desperate." All three senators reached the capital after having spent several months in the agriculture sections of the west.

President Coolidge meanwhile continued his conferences with cabinet members, legislators and experts from the Departments of Commerce and Agriculture. The plight of the farmers and the possible calling of an extra session of Congress were discussed at today's cabinet meeting.

Senator Frazier, former non-partisan governor of North Dakota, endorsed the recent statements of Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, who termed the agriculture situation "one of the worst in history."

"The situation among American farmers in the West is one of the worst in history," said Frazier. "I agree with Borah in his economic description of the west. The farmers really need government action to relieve the present situation."

Frazier said he would call upon President Coolidge to "lay before the executive the needs of our farmers." Senator Borah paid a similar visit to the president earlier in the week.

"The farmers need legislative relief," Frazier added. "I personally believe that prices of farm products must be stabilized before he can obtain permanent relief. I favor a bill on the order of the Norris-Sinclair measure, introduced at the last session, which guaranteed a fair return on farm products. There must be a price guarantee on wheat. Other crops will then respond. It is only by such a desperate remedy that this situation can be met."

"Railroad rates are largely to blame. The present cost of transportation must be reduced and Congress should provide the way. The cost of freight is so high farmers cannot transport their products to market except at a loss."

"The situation is desperate and there is no question about the emergency. Thousands of farmers are going broke and forced to lose their homes and farms in the existing conditions."

Senator Harrison, a Democratic leader in the senate, favored the calling of a special session but urged the president to "let congress select its own program of relief."

Senator Norbeck, a leader of the senators "farm bloc," also blamed transportation costs for present farm conditions.

GOVERNMENT GETS ONE HALF MILLION

Washington, Sept. 21.—The government will receive approximately half a million dollars in taxes from the Dempsey-Firpo fight, the bureau of internal revenue announced today. Taxes for the admissions alone amounted to $108,054.80, but this total will be greatly augmented by income tax returns from the principals, promoters and others who profited from the fight.

"DOPE" SCANDAL IS PROMISED PIQUA

Piqua, Sept. 21.—More startling investigations and arrests may follow in the "dope ring" investigation conducted by Federal Officer Frank Bauer, of Columbus, Monday night and Tuesday according to a statement made by the federal officer here.

The federal officer declared he has positive information that one man here received $2,000 in two weeks as his fee for peddling the "dope" and that Piqua may be astonished to know the names of some of the persons engaged in the traffic.

Clifford Knapp, 32, was arrested by the officer and Patrolman John Evans, Monday at midnight, charged with the illegal possession of morphine and is in the county jail in default of $1000 bond, awaiting arraignment before the Miami county grand jury which convenes about October 1st or thereafter.

ELLIS ISLAND.

The British Ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes, acting on the complaints of British subjects who have had unpleasant experiences at the immigrant detention station at Ellis Island, has made to his government a report in which he criticizes very sharply the conditions that he observed at the island. He found the quarters overcrowded, unclean and generally uncomfortable and declares that decent and respectable persons who are unfortunately subject to detention there ought not to have to undergo the hardships that they must now endure.

Let it be admitted at once that conditions at Ellis Island are not satisfactory. Under the present system of limitation and examination they probably never can be. Sir Auckland Geddes himself says that the conditions of which he complains are not so much the fault of the administering officials as of the immigrants themselves. A very large proportion of those who are detained are diseased or unused through their poverty and their manner of life at home to cleanly and sanitary habits. Under the old system of unrestricted immigration few if any of the bettered aliens would have had to submit to confinement with such persons. They would have been passed expeditiously through the station and permitted to land. But under the new law, which establishes monthly quotas from each foreign country, a certain number of desirable immigrants, whose only offense is that they are in excess of the stipulated quota, are every month obliged to spend some time at least in the detention pens. It is this sort of immigrant who complains, and reasonably, of what he has to undergo at Ellis Island.

Sir Auckland Geddes suggests that some way ought to be found to examine immigrants at the ports of departure, so that those who are sure to be turned back for one reason or another shall not make the journey only to meet disappointment at the end. That is what our own immigration authorities have always recommended. The difficulty has been that the other nations have not liked the idea of having American officials examine their citizens on their home soil. But it is not really necessary to have the examination conducted by Americans. If the European governments would undertake the duty themselves and permit only those to take ship who seem clearly eligible, they would spare their less fortunate citizens a great deal of discomfort and unhappiness.

Meanwhile our own lawmakers ought to try to find a way to amend the immigration law so as to make the enforcement of the quota provisions less of a hardship to self-respecting men and women from abroad. If nothing else can be done, it seems that those who are detained merely because they are in excess of the quota of their nation might be kept in quarters different from those who are turned back for other reasons. That would meet most of the criticisms that the British Ambassador makes.

A HISTORIC TREE.

The Washington Elm at Cambridge is dead and must, we suppose, be cut down. Thus passes the most famous tree in the United States. When the weight of historic association is considered it is, perhaps, the most famous tree in the world. Americans who preserve a sentimental attachment to the monuments of the past will feel a sort of personal loss in the death of this old elm akin to that which they feel when some eminent and useful citizen passes away.

Under this tree George Washington stood when he took command of the Revolutionary army, then besieging the British in Boston. It was a year and a day before the Declaration of Independence was voted in Philadelphia. It was not quite three months after the first clash of arms at Lexington and Concord. The elm was a noble and sightly tree then, and it has lived on for almost a century and a half to remind succeeding generations of the toil and sacrifice through which our national independence was gained.

And if, as seems certain, the liberty of France and the world-shaking consequences of the French Revolution can be traced back to their sources in our own struggle for freedom, the Washington Elm is a monument that the lovers of liberty and self-government all the world over may venerate. It is a strange coincidence that the tree should die just as the world is passing out of that historical era which may almost be said to have begun with the event that took place under its branches into an era the meaning and the course of which we cannot yet foresee.

Fortunately, the famous elm does not die childless. A thrifty shoot from it was planted some years ago on Cambridge Common; and it may in time become almost as much an object of pilgrimage as the parent tree itself.

INTERESTING.

It is a curious fact that three of the last eight Presidents deliberately dropped the first of their baptismal names when they came to manhood. Stephen Grover Cleveland became Grover Cleveland, Thomas Woodrow Wilson became Woodrow Wilson, and John Calvin Coolidge became Calvin Coolidge. It took something more than dropping a first name to make these men Presidents; but did you ever think that, although nine men out of ten support both a first and a middle name, six out of the last eight Presidents have borne only a single "Christian" name? Apparently there is something in the shorter, crisper form that helps in the game of politics.

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Good fortune has come to a company composed of Xenians, who have struck it rich in oil in the Chanute, Kansas, field. The company bears the name of the Ideal Oil and Gas Company and the officers are composed of the following: O. C. Balar, president, and general manager; O. A. Spahr, vice president; Dr. A. C. Messenger, secretary and Dr. P. R. Madden, treasurer. The company owns a lease right in the heart of the rich oil fields, which has proven very rich wherever it has been developed.

The Board of Directors of the Citizens' National Bank held a meeting this morning and elected Mr. T. Dales Kyle as assistant cashier of the bank.

Dr. P. R. Madden returned today from his trip in the West and South, browned by exposure but looking as though his vacation had agreed with him.

There has been a general shake up of the men in the Pan-Handle yards, several having large sized cakes of ice hung on them by being told that the Pan-Handle could get along without them.

with the following: Beat the egg-whites stiff and beat into them one cup of sugar and a drop or two of lemon extract (or vanilla). Put this uncooked meringue on the cake very thickly as it is the dressing for the pudding. Eat warm. We like this better than a liquid sauce. "A Mother": "Fruit Cake Without Spices: Cream together one cup of sugar and one cup of lard; add three eggs well beaten, one cup of cream (or you may use canned cream diluted with cold water in equal parts), one cup of blackberry jam, one cup of seedless raisins, one cup of dates cut small and stoned, one cup of almonds broken small, and three and one-half cups of flour sifted with three and one-half teaspoons of baking powder. Turn the batter into a greased pan (this makes a large cake) and bake in a moderate oven for one hour and 20 minutes—or perhaps a little longer."

EIGHT-YEAR TERM FOR BISHOPS

Cleveland, Sept. 21.—Following extended debate in which the opinion was expressed that the government of the Methodist Episcopal church should be more Democratic, the Ohio conference adopted a memorial to the general conference favoring the election of bishops to a term of eight years instead of for life. The memorial provides that they may be re-elected. The vote was 103 for the memorial and 52 against it.

MR. JAMES W. BOGART
Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. James W. Bogart, born and raised in Columbus, living at 996 Studer avenue, packer at the Federal Glass company's plant, is another strong believer in Ka-di-ok. He says:

"Had I known about Ka-di-ok a year or two ago I could have saved myself a lot of suffering from kidney trouble, as the very first bottle brought me relief. Before I heard of Ka-di-ok I did not know what a good night's rest meant. I had pains across my back; was very nervous, and felt tired and worn out during the day and steadily lost weight."

"I have only used Ka-di-ok for a few weeks and feel like a new man. I am free from backaches, eat well, and sleep fine. I am 47 years of age and am as strong and well today as I ever was. I can truly recommend Ka-di-ok; it goes right to the spot and is a real medicine."

Ka-di-ok is an herbal remedy and can be taken to excellent advantage as a tonic during all seasons of the year. It is especially beneficial in cases of stomach, liver, and kidney trouble, impure blood, and for persons in a run-down, debilitated condition. Ka-di-ok can be had in Xenia at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store. adv

THE EFFORT

When man has done his level best,
I fancy God is satisfied,
He need not be in splendor dressed,
Know north and south and east and west,
Nor tread the paths of pride;
If he is earnest in the test,
God knows how hard he tried.

Not all the good men rise to fame,
Nor all the kings are crowned,
Full many a long forgotten name
Has borne life's battle but to flame
An unremembered mound,
And men from men have suffered blame

When God no fault has found,
'Tis splendid to do the splendid deed,
'Tis sweet to reach the goal,
But oft the dreams of men may lead
Them past their strength, to fall and bleed,
And failure signs the scroll,
But 'tis not said we must succeed
To make the perfect soul.

When man has done his level best,
I fancy God is satisfied,
Though night shall find him soredistracted,
Beaten by cares, by men oppressed,
His victory denied,
God knows how cruel the test
And just how hard he tried!

Today's Talk

DO NOT GRUDGE THE THROW

There are two ways of working—one where a man's head and heart enters the task and the other where a man merely works at his job.

Do the thing into which you feel that you can cast every last spark of vitality and enthusiastic effort.

Do not grudge your throw of chance. Believe in your "star!"

To grow truly is to gain confidence with every move that you make. The hand, the voice, the very look a leader's eyes inspires faith on the part of those about him to follow.

There is nothing written about life that assures certainty to anyone along any definite line, except that the rewards for earnest and honest effort are adequate and just.

Just the minute you regret the decision you make, there enters the destroying power of doubt and soon the little devil-worries get in their deadly work.

Look into and through the thing which you attempt. Master it in your own belief.

It is impossible for you to lift others without yourself being lifted in turn. But you must uphold with the certainties of faith—which are the only certainties we know about.

To climb a hill the driver of a machine must "step on the gas." He must furnish added power for the added height to which he aspires.

Every time you say to yourself "I can," "I will," "I do believe," you fortify your soul, you master yourself, you clear the very atmosphere which you breathe.

Remember this: Success is for you!

DISASTER RELIEF IS TOUCHED UPON AT RED CROSS MEET

Miss Louise B. Shaffer, secretary of the Greene County Chapter of the American Red Cross, attended the Regional Conference held by the Red Cross, Tuesday, in Columbus, at the New Southern Hotel.

One of the several interesting features of the conference was the discussion of the Mobilization of resources for disaster relief in Ohio. Fred C. Croxton, chairman of disaster relief, Columbus chapter, lead the discussion. Jerome Watson, Chief of Division of Mines, in explaining the first aid and relief work in the mining industry, said that the department maintained one mine rescue car in Columbus, which could reach any mine within four to seven hours. They also have in constant readiness five first aid trucks, completely equipped and manned by a corps of trained first aid men. The department employs instructors who teach the men in the mines how to care for minor injuries, and every possible precaution is taken to have the supplies accessible in case of "need." The department knows the exact location of the trucks at all times.

When asked if the car and five trucks could be available in case of a disaster, other than in the mines, Mr. Watson, assured the Red Cross that being State property, and subject to the orders of the Governor, that all their equipment would be available.

James E. Bauman, Assistant Director State Department of Health, explained what could be accomplished in time of disaster through their laboratory, in the way of testing water supplies, supplying chemicals for chlorination of water, etc. The personnel of their department would be available as would an emergency fund of $250,000.

A. M. Knight, Chairman Disaster Relief, Clark County Chapter, suggested the plan used by the Springfield committee, as practical for most communities. Instead of purchasing supplies he suggested having a committee which will have a complete list of all available doctors and nurses, their addresses and phone numbers; an estimate of the amount of supplies that could be secured, from local stores and the phone numbers of the stores, the ambulances, trucks, bedding, cots, were located and phone numbers; vacant buildings or rooms should be listed and capacity noted for use as temporary hospitals. The chairman of the committee should keep a list of available volunteers and data as to where to send for state assistance and what different departments have at their disposal. This data, should be checked every few months in order to keep it up to date, according to Mr. Bauman.

Dr. H. H. Shively, commanding the One Hundred and Twelfth Medical Regiment, told what the Ohio National Guard could do in case of a disaster.

The Red Cross, is now compiling data for each Chapter showing material available, the place it is kept and the amount. This will soon be in the hands of Chairman of Disaster Relief in each community. The discussion at the Regional meeting was an aftermath of the recent Japanese disaster. The National Red Cross went "over the top" in subscriptions for aid for the stricken country. One hundred cents out of every dollar collected by the Red Cross was sent to Japan, officials say and all the expense of the solicitation born by the chapters and national organization.

SAY SETTLEMENT NEAR IN FUME

Rome, Sept. 21.—The semi-official Messaggero and the Corriere d'Italia both stated today that a settlement of the Fiume dispute is imminent.

It is understood that the basis of settlement will be as follows:

1 Italy to take over the city of Fiume.

2 Jugo-Slavia to get sovereignty over Porto Baros.

Contrary to reports from Belgrade there will be no change in the Italian-Jugo-Slav frontier, according to Messaggero.

OUTLAW STRIKERS ARE RULED OUT

New York, Sept. 21.—New York's newspaper publishers today resumed consideration of a proposal by Major George L. Berry, president of the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistant's Union of North America, by which a new contract, ignoring 2,500 members of local No. 25 now on strike would be consummated.

Hope that an agreement might be reached was entertained.

The proposal eliminates the striking local from further relations with the publishers. The latter now are to deal entirely with the international union. Berry has informed David Simons, president of local No. 25, that the charter of the local has been suspended.

By the new contract, Berry said, the international union will guarantee arbitration of all disputed points in the future. His men will operate presses at the city's newspaper plants in place of members of local No. 25, which has been outlawed because of its "illegal strike" of last Monday night.

By pooling their resources, publishers today issued more than seventy per cent of their normal morning circulation—editions being of the composite eight page type.

RAIL CONDUCTOR HAS LEG BROKEN

J. D. Allen, 319 West Third street, Pennsylvania Railroad freight conductor, sustained a fracture of both bones in the left leg just above the ankle, when a rail slipped and fell on his leg, near Hawkins crossing, west of Xenia, about 9:30 o'clock Friday morning.

Mr. Allen was in charge of a train on which were a number of steel rails that workmen were unloading at the place. A falling rail struck him on the leg. He was brought to the office of Dr. W. A. Galloway, Pennsylvania railroad surgeon, where the bones were set. He was later taken to his home.

LOCAL THESPIANS SOUGHT BY DAYTON MAN HERE.

Xenians who are interested in dramatic art, may have an opportunity of experience in motion pictures. If plans of Carl Theobald, representative of the National Screen Players of America, with headquarters in Dayton, to organize screen clubs in Xenia, materialize.

Mr. Theobald was in Xenia, Friday, conferring with members of the Queen Esther organizations, in local churches, in order to interest the societies, in the proposed project. The films to be screened with local talent are to be of Biblical nature alone for a time, Mr. Theobald plans.

COURT NEWS

RAILROAD IS SUED

Alleging permanent injuries received while loading poles on a pole car, Jacob Miller, employee of The Dayton Power and Light Company has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company for $5,000 damages.

The plaintiff alleges a car was shunted on the switch track by employees of the defendant while he was assisting in loading the pole car, May 9, 1922. He declares the car traversed the track under its own momentum, striking a Dayton Power and Light Company truck, and knocking the truck toward the plaintiff so that he was crushed between the truck and two poles.

Injuries he received to his hand he says causes him to lose control of it at times, the plaintiff declares, causing him to drop whatever he is handling, which injures him in his work. The case was filed by C. L. Darlington, attorney for the plaintiff, and is the second damage action filed here within the last few days in which the same railroad has been made defendant.

EXPERTS KILLED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Washington, Sept. 21.—Two government experts were killed and seven others so seriously injured that physicians say they can not live, in an explosion of gasoline at the Bureau of Standards.

Logan L. Lauer of Lower Salem, Ohio, was killed instantly by the force of the blast and Hugh J. Cook of this city died at Emergency hospital several hours later. Joseph E. Kendig, Stephen N. Less and Henry K. Cummings all of this city, were so badly burned and injured that their lives are despaired of. The men were experimenting in gasoline conservation work, their activities being designed to effect a saving of 500,000, 000 gallons annually to consumers of this country. As a result of the explosion and the wrecking of the plant, together with the loss of the men, this work will be at a standstill for several years. The laboratory was the only one in the world equipped for such work.

Move the head far over to the left. Now place the palm of the right hand against the side of the head and press against the head as it moves from far to the left to far to the right. Continue a while and then take the same exercise, reversing the position by using the left hand against the head instead of the right.

Now place the right hand behind the head. Now pressing against the head with the right hand, bring the head from far forward to far backward. Continue until tired and vary the movement by using at times the left hand instead of the right.

You may now take a third cup of hot water. You may then take the following exercises.

Stand erect, bend the knees, lowering the body to the crouching position. Rise and repeat until a distinct feeling of fatigue is noticed. On each occasion when rising to an erect position be sure to "snap" the knees backward with a slight "jerk" at the end of the movement.

Next lie prone on the floor, face downward. Place the open hands near the chest, the elbows extended far out at the sides. Raise the body by straightening the arms.

Now interlace the fingers of both hands behind the head. Now with the head far forward press against the head as it is moved far backward. Continue the movement until fatigued. Then take another cup of hot water.

Grasp the sides of a chair. Have the body leaning forward. Toes on the floor, the head over the seat of the chair. Bring the elbows close to the sides and then raise the body by straightening the arms.

Next place the palm of the right hand across the forehead with the head far back, clapping the right wrist with the left hand. Now bring the head far forward, resisting the movement vigorously with the strength of both arms. Continue until tired.

If you find your capacity is unequal to the hot water suggested, then simply take as much as you can without inconvenience or discomfort. Each day, however, while following this method, you will find your hot water drinking capacity will increase, though, as a rule, a person of average weight and height can take from one to two quarts without serious inconvenience.

BRINGING UP FATHER

FARM NEWS OF GREENE COUNTY

PRINCE TELLS HOW TO DRY SEED CORN SO THAT GERMINATING POWERS INTACT

Another set of instructions concerning field selection of seed corn, is being announced by County Agent Ford S. Prince, as a result of the necessity of seed corn selection and storage, since the recent frosts.

After the field selection of the seed corn, the storage and drying process takes place. Through drying of seed corn is necessary, according to Mr. Prince. Freezing weather destroys the germinating power of corn with a high moisture content, while thoroughly dry corn has been subjected to temperatures considerably below zero without losing its germinating power. "If seed corn selection is late it is essential that the moisture content be reduced quickly, and artificial heat is valuable for this," Mr. Prince says. "In order to dry out satisfactorily seed corn must be stored where the air circulation is good. It is not safe to pile ears on the floor or on a shelf. The ears must be separated so that the air can circulate around them. Storing them up in a convenient and inexpensive way. Enough corn for one acre can be suspended from a nail. The ears do not touch each other and are easily taken out."

"A cheap and safe device can be made by cutting the wires of a woven fence midway between the stay wires. The ends of the wires, are bent up and an ear of corn stuck on each wire. Each hanger will take care of 18 or 20 ears. There are other good methods of storing seed corn. In fact any method which allows free circulation of air around each ear is satisfactory. Nails or spikes driven through boards and planks make good seed corn racks. The nails should be at least four inches apart each way. Seed corn storage racks can be made of two-by-fours and plastering lath. Seed corn drying racks can be purchased, but cheaper homemade contrivances are just as satisfactory."

"A well-ventilated room is essential. Attics, empty rooms in houses, lofts over wagon sheds, and corn cribs are alright. Protect the corn from rain, but leave the doors and windows open so that the corn will get the advantage of the air."

TOM TAGGART ILL

He was taken to Boston Friday. Mrs. Taggart, and two physicians are reported to be in constant attendance at his bedside.

NO HARM MEANT DECLARES FISHER

Delaware, Sept. 21.—Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University meant no "dishonor" to the late President Harding when he said in a recent speech at East Liverpool that Mr. Harding, previous to his election, had expressed a desire that the United States enter the League of Nations, he said here tonight in his final address in Ohio.

"I deeply regret that the spirit of those remarks was taken by anybody as a slur upon Mr. Harding," he declared.

"The gist of my interview in 1920 with Mr. Harding was that he intended to redeem his party that he in an 'Association of Nations,' and that the only way to do so was by making the necessary changes in the existing League," Professor Fisher continued. "Later in the campaign he publicly said substantially this very thing. He said whatever there is of good in the existing League should be used in building the association. And we all know that Mr. Taft, and The 31, Root, Hughes, Hoover, Strans, Lowell, etc., as pro-leaguers, asked and obtained votes—probably millions of them for Mr. Harding on that very basis."

"In saying what I did I intended not to dishonor but to honor Mr. Harding, and those who actually heard me took it as I meant it. I meant to correct the growing false impression that the promised Association of Nations was to be dropped altogether, a false impression which as Mr. Wellman recently showed, Mr. Harding would have corrected himself had he lived by calling the nations in a world conference."

"Those who now so loudly complain of what I said are those who do not want that platform pledge redeemed."

Mr. Fisher said that he had "yet to meet and Ohioan who took offense" at his remarks.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

RUBY ATTEMPTS CHAPERONAGE Chapter XXXIII.

"Where are you going?" Joan asked as I followed her.

"With you, dear. It isn't nice for a girl of your age to go about as you do, after this I shall go with you."

With a shrug and a frown she went out, walking very fast. I rather wondered she made no further objections, and hurrying, I walked beside her, chatting. I asked where she was going.

"To the hotel," she replied naming a popular hostelry.

All the afternoon I sat watching the dancers, Joan never once came near me, but I noticed she never missed a dance. I was glad to note the boys were young, 17 or 18 at most. There were gray-haired men there too, dancing with young girls, but it was the boys who danced with Joan. As the orchestra finished playing "Home, Sweet Home," I hurried out. But Joan had disappeared. She was nowhere about. I was sure she had purposely given me the slip. I hurried home, but it was not until we had finished dinner she came in.

For a time I persisted, but either during the dance or just before it was over, Joan invariably eluded me, and was late in arriving home. I concluded I was doing more harm than good by insisting upon going with her and upon her promise to come directly home when the dance was over I no longer accompanied her.

"I shall have to trust her," I said to myself after a long talk with her, in which I did all the talking. She was sulky. Said I had been the cause of the boys and girls poking fun at her. To tell the truth I was nearly distracted, but now I received no sympathy when I talked with Paul. He said: "The child is all right. She is young, entitled to a little fun. She didn't have much while I was away according to her story. You are always fussing about something. I'm too busy to be bothered with trifles."

So Joan had been complaining to her father because of the way we lived while he was away.

"I don't think any of us had much fun while you were away," I replied bitterly. "I am sure I didn't."

As usual he changed the subject. He never seemed to want me to speak of our hard times. I am sure he never appreciated just how hard they were—had he perhaps he might have been more sympathetic. But he hated anything that made him uncomfortable, really would not talk if such a subject were mentioned.

He said nothing more about his wish for more money and I had nearly forgotten it. Had I not been anxious because of Joan I should have been quite happy. We were getting acquainted with some nice people and went out occasionally. Paul seemed to have recovered all of his old sang-froid, appeared genial, glad to be with others. As always, when he cared to make the effort, he made friends easily.

We saw a good deal of Dave Logan, and when we invited our new friends in to dine or play cards he always made one of the party.

Evelyn Markham still came to see me, but when she found Logan was invariably one of any company she refused to join us, but confined her calls to times when I was alone. I thought her very unjust, very narrow, but nothing I could say altered her opinion that Dave Logan was not the right kind of a man to be intimate with us.

And Logan, in spite of his intimacy with us, was as close-mouthed now as Paul. Encouraged by his sympathy, and his former apparent frankness I had several times tried to talk with him about what Paul did for him, and hinted I would like to know what he paid him; but to no avail. He was heavily gay, complimentary, but sidestepped any questions, telling me to take life less seriously.

As I have said he seldom came empty handed. And regardless of prohibition he often brought us a bottle of wine, or whiskey, which he declared to be "old stock" which wouldn't hurt us. Paul when at home had always kept liquor in the house, although he was a very moderate drinker, so I thought nothing strange that Logan should supply us from his cellar.

We often discussed the new law. I was in favor of it and both he and Paul very much against it. They both declared it took away the vaunted liberty of the American people, that it led to crime and deceit. They contended it was perfectly all right to break such a law.
